

The Amazing Power of Speech

Join Pediatric Speech Language Pathologist, Jennifer Watson for a 3-part series on the power of speech and its impact on overall development! This workshop focuses on learning how to support a child's speech development, improve communication and thereby reduce frustration and tantrums.

Topics will include:

Speech Milestones: The role we all have in teaching our children to talk and communicate effectively with others. Understanding speech and language milestones and how best to encourage development.

Strategies to help reduce frustration: Building confident communicators while identifying where things break down and how to help. Learning how to build confidence and emotional regulation skills.

Strategies to increase a child's vocabulary and ability to be understood when communicating: Learn simple strategies to encourage language development as well as nonverbal communication skills.

Learning how and when to advocate for additional services: What is an Individualized Education Plan and when might a child benefit from one.
