cape cod children's place FAMILY NEWSLETTER

for families and caregivers of children

Summer's Special Moments

We've been waiting long months for summer and it's finally here, bringing familiar promises and pressures. The promise of warm, sunny days and everything the Cape has to offer in this season; the pressure to work more and earn enough to pay the bills next winter. The promise of family time outdoors; the pressure of keeping our children happy, busy and safe.

Trying to balance the promises and the pressures can put us in a place where we're always looking ahead and not appreciating the moment. And today's world of instant communication adds to the pressure. We can get caught up in sending and receiving texts, looking for advice and updates on Instagram and TikTok, checking up on friends and family on Facebook.

Social media and the Internet can provide useful information and expand our world. But the time we spend in that electronic world can rob us of the pleasures of the present moment. When we're focused on what other people are doing, planning what comes next, we are likely to miss out on the present.

Our children have a lot to teach us about staying in the present moment. A child building with blocks, or looking at a picture book, or making a painting, is completely focused. Watching that child, we witness absolute concentration. Young children give their full attention to what they're doing at that moment. They inhabit the present without being distracted by anticipation of the future. That is not easy for adults; we are often juggling responsibilities, concerns, plans – all the pieces of the puzzles that make up our lives.

Staying present is even harder when we feel the need to let other people know what we're doing, where we are, how much fun we're having. No electronic world can or should replace the wonders and discoveries of daily life. Sharing our life with others takes time away from living it.

So take a photo at the end, after the sandcastle is built, after the game is over. Take a picture and save it, as a memory to treasure. And may we all enjoy many special moments this summer.

Cape Cod Children's Place News

Summer Is Here!

Summer is always busy and intense here on the Cape & Islands. We're used to it, we expect it, and yet sometimes the pace and demands of these coming weeks can be overwhelming at times. All the more reason to find and savor the special moments that remind us of everything we have to be grateful for: a child's new discovery, laughter with friends, a peaceful family moment, sunset over Cape Cod Bay.

We are pleased to welcome Kate Macaulay back to Cape Cod Children's Place as Interim Director of Education. Kate has a long and valued history with us, having served as our Executive Director from 2000 to 2013, when she retired to spend more time with her grandchildren. Since her retirement she has continued to stay involved with Cape Cod Children's Place, always supporting our organization and our mission. She stepped forward to help us when Liz Stapleton retired at the beginning of June to pursue her doctoral studies.

For a complete list of all our staff and our programs, visit www.capecodchildrensplace.com.

Thank You!

We are grateful to the Michael H. Cole Charitable Giving Foundation Fund Raising Day, held May 8 and sponsored by Cape Associates and the Cape Cod Cooperative Bank. By partnering with them (we obtained the auction and raffle items this year), we were the recipient of a percentage of the monies brought in by those items.

To Diane Garey, event Chair, and everyone who helped to organize our 2nd Annual "Art Grab" on June 28. Thank you to our host Chequessett Yacht and Country Club, and to event sponsors: Seamen's Bank, Cape Associates, George Davis Builders, Kerry Insurance, and La Tanzi Spaulding & Landreth. Thank you to our Board Members and volunteers who worked hard to plan this Evening of Art to support Cape Cod Children's Place, and to all the artists who donated their work to make the evening a success.

We welcome monetary donations of any size. Please call us for ways to give.
